St. Petersburg, FL

William P. Walsh

VP Industry Relations, AESS
Perspective

Focus

- “While historically, Industry Relations across IEEE has been focused on membership development, it seems natural and appropriate now that AESS pursue relationships with industry that are more collaborative in nature, with the goals of enhancing the nature of technological development, assessing the impact of such development in our environments, and providing our members with an increased ability to become more engaged in the profession.”

Vision

- “Our vision is to develop and enhance collaborative and cooperative relationships with major aerospace and electronic systems industries in order to build and support the full, dynamic careers of our industry practitioners, with specific focus on encouraging and enabling young professionals.”
