

Lt. Col. Claudio GIZZI (male) achieved a Degree in Physics at the University "La Sapienza" of Rome and later in 1994 achieved post-graduated specialization in High Energy and Medics Instruments. He joined the Air Force in 1998 and achieved the Master in Physic of the Atmosphere. After many contributions to Air and Joint Operations and Exercises, since 2017 he was appointed at the ITAF Air Operations Command as METOC and Space Weather Office. Since June 2020 he was appointed at Space Operation Centre in the Air and Space Operations Command and he is currently the Head of the Operations Service in the Space Situational Awareness Centre in charge to deal the S.S.T. services for the EU SST framework support program for Italy, National Military Space activities and support to NATO operations.

